Hello from the Hawleys!

All of us here at the Hawley farm hope that you and your families are safe, healthy, and doing well. I don’t think any of us quite knew what we were in for in 2019, and we all went into 2020 full of hope. It appears that we may have challenges ahead of a whole different kind. 2019 was hard on cattle, and people. I’m not sure the folks in the city truly grasp what a battle it was just to get feed to our animals on a daily basis. The thing about people in agriculture is we just put our shoulder into it and push harder.

Sometimes it is hard to figure out what to say that sounds different from year to year. If you have bought bulls here in the past, you pretty much know what to expect. I won’t lie, and say that this set of bulls hasn’t been through a lot. It was tough in early 2019. But, this is a good set of bulls, and there should be something for everyone’s program. These bulls are not fat. They easily could have 150 lbs more weight on them, but that doesn’t do them any good in the summer when they should be breeding. We feel they are in good shape, and ready to work. If you have any questions about any of the bulls, just give us a call, or stop by to look. We would love to show them to you.

There are always a lot of people to thank, and we start by thanking those of you who have given us your business in the past. Your trust means a lot. Also, we thank The Design Farm for putting together a great catalog. Kaitie Masters for taking the pictures of the bulls. Brady Masters and Chris Paider for their help with a variety of things. A big thank you to Will Kirwan, who works here full time. He takes some of the load off our shoulders and we appreciate him.

The biggest challenge of 2019 was the passing of Gene’s wife, Jean Hawley. She was such a big part of this whole farm, and family. By far, the easiest Hawley to like. The last pages of this catalog are dedicated to her.

Thank you!

Sincerely,

Bryan Hawley
Gene Hawley

Notes:
So, God Made A Farmer’s Wife

And on the 9th day, God looked down on his planned paradise and said, “The farmer is going to need some help.” So, God made a farmer’s wife.

God said, “I need somebody who will get up before dawn, make breakfast, work all day in the kitchen, milk barn or along side her farmer and then come home to fix supper and wash up the dishes.” So, God made a farmer’s wife.

God said, “I need somebody willing to sit up all night with their newborn son. And watch him grow. Then, pray each morning and teach her children to say ‘please and thank you’. I need somebody who can make a fried-eggs sandwich, stretch a paycheck or thicken soup, who can clean her house with vinegar, baking soda and hot water. And who, planting time and harvest season, will finish her forty-hour week on Friday, then, join her farmer in the field for another two days, six meals and five loads of laundry.” So, God made a farmer’s wife.

God had to have somebody willing to milk cows, to care for the calves, sheep and hens during harvest and spend her weekends working to get the hay in at double speed ahead of the rain clouds. And, keep working at it alone, when the farmer goes off to help the neighbor. So, God made a farmer’s wife.

God said, “I need somebody strong enough to plant trees and heave bales, yet gentle enough to tame show calves and raise their kids and calm the farmer when he’s upset over higher rent or lower corn, who will stop her work for an hour to talk on the phone to her neighbor who just found out her mother is sick. It had to be somebody who would cook and clean and not cut corners. Somebody to wash, dry, iron, tidy, feed, rake, water, drive, pick-up this, run that back and check the homework and pack the lunch bags and remember the basketball schedule and replenish the refrigerator and finish a hard week’s work and with a five-mile ride to church.”

“Somebody who’d sew a family together with the soft strong stitches of sharing, who would laugh and then sigh and then reply, with smiling eyes, when her daughter says she want to spend her life ‘doing what Mom does’.” So, God made a farmer’s wife.

Going Home
Gene and Jean married on February 27, 1956. The first time I saw Jean was June 1954 in JP Cooper's Variety Store with my friend Jim. I was drinking a Green River. Oh where did this girl come from? She was 15 years old, wearing a sweater, long skirt down to the ankles, white bobby socks and white shoes. My thoughts were "I need to get to know her."

In September we went to school and here she is again in the hall, her sophomore year. She was a fast walker, get out of my way walker, and hard to keep up with. I finally got her to slow down and talk to me. Then we began to see each other and date. I remember our first kiss. It was on the Congregational Church steps. We were sitting there, she was between Jim and I, he held her and I kissed her and from then on it never stopped. She always wanted her kiss, up to her last hour.

She loved her children, people and animals, especially her milk cows. She started with two Jersey cows, Tubs and Jerry, she bought them in Loup City. Then Holstein went to Grade A with a new barn in 1969 to 2000, 30 years. She was a very good cook and loved family dinners and was known for her delicious chocolate cake. She always worried there wouldn’t be enough food, but everyone kept coming back.

Then in 2001, Parkinson’s set in. She fought it for 18 years and was able to stay home until the last two weeks. That morning, September 5th, 2019, I had gone home for a couple hours and came back around 11. The kids were with her, said they would give us some time alone and left to get something to eat. I walked over and gave her a kiss. Her eyes had not been open. She opened her eyes and I could tell she said "I love you." Then she raised her arm and I said "you want me to hold you, don’t you." So I leaned over and put my arms around her and told her I loved her and at that moment I could tell her spirit left her body to be with our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. And I knew she was gone and at peace, no more pain.

Our love for each other was for 63 years, 6 months, 9 days and is still going on.

Proverbs 5:18 "Let your fountain be blessed, and rejoice with the wife of your youth."
- GENE HAWLEY
I would like to thank everyone who showed up at the time of Jean Hawley’s passing. There was a lot of very wonderful support, tons of friends, family, and food. Thank you all so much with any help and all the kindness during a sad time in our family.

My Mom was a wonderful woman. She was my playmate when I was a kid. She and I had a great bond. We would joke and laugh and really had a lot of fun together. She was a firm believer in hard work also. As a young man she and I spoke often. She always wanted to know what I was working on or what I was doing. If my answered “nothing,” she would always say something like; “Don’t waste the day. You will never get it back. So go do something fun or productive. Don’t just sit around.” I will tell you one more story. I could go on and on but, I won’t. In the barn where mom spent a lot of time, there were hoses by every cow that hung down to wash them in preparation for milking. In the summer when it was hot it was not unusual to spray or get sprayed by someone. One hot morning Mom and I were cleaning the barn and had a little fun having a water fight. She went to the house and I finished up. As I was walking to the house I could see her coming out. So, I tucked in beside the house where there was a hose. As she rounded the corner I let her have it. She had gotten ready to go to town, so I was in trouble. She was faster than you may think. She also had a washing stick. It had more than one purpose. So because of how mad she was, I ran into the house, went around and up and over mom and dad’s bed where she almost got me. I hit the wall with my knee. The hole is still there. Then ran to my room, again up and over the bed. She threw the stick at me where it stuck in the wall. She told me to stay there and she got ready and left. I then felt safe to come out. She really was a wonderful Mother. There was always something to eat. Hungry or not you were going to have something, cakes, cookies, candies, a soda or something. She is greatly missed. But, I am happy to know she is now in Heaven with her mother and father and my brother Danial.

Proverbs 31:28 “Her children arise up, and call her blessed; Her husband also, and he praiseth her.”
A Tribute to Mom

I am sure that Mom never knew the impact her teaching and example would have in my life. She was always the voice of calm in the storm, the night watch during the tornado season, the lunch provider no matter where you were working, and the constant support to every activity on the farm. I always knew I was prayed for in every stage of life, I was always corrected in my life to please God, and I knew her example, when followed, would lead to a productive, God pleasing life. As we remembered her life last September, we begin to understand the impact her years on this earth had on so many people. The seeds of wisdom that she taught me I now teach to others, her reward in Heaven continues to grow, and we do not say goodbye to fellow Christians, we say I will see you later. So-see you later Mom-I will be there before you know it.

- MARLIN HAWLEY

There is so many wonderful things I remember about our mom. First was her love for God and unending faith. Such a blessing knowing we will be with her again someday. She also loved dad and often said so. She would say “no matter how mad we get at each other, I love that man dearly.” She loved her kids and worried about them. She was my best friend and God was so gracious with allowing us time to adjust to her not being with us emotionally and mentally before she was gone physically.

I miss her sense of humor probably the most. She had such a funny way about her. Up till the last year she would say something that would make you stop a few seconds later and think what did she say, did she say what I think she said. And then she would smirk and you knew she meant what she said. One time she was at the sink and dad and I were at the table, I made a comment that he thought was inappropriate and he looked at her and said, “did you hear what she said?” She turned and smiled and answered, “yes, I’m so proud of her.” She always liked a little shock effect. She was my hero and when someone says you look like or act like your mother, it makes me smile.

Hello to all. This was the last crop of calves that Mom watched come into this world. Because of the camera system, even with Parkinson’s, she could help. And did, by watching the screen and giving a shout out on the CB if something didn’t look right. And when this group of calves was being born, early spring 2019, every bit helped! We did survive last spring and will survive Mom’s passing, but man, it’s hard!

Thank you for looking at our catalog and for purchasing any bulls that will work for your herd. And of course, Mom thanks you one final time as well.

Thanks for having me. That was pretty special!!! Thanks for all the fun time we spent in the barn milking those cows. Thanks for helping Dad build the farm! So much hard work! Thanks for watching over Sue and my 3 Boys! Especially after I moved to Colorado. Thanks for making the best fudge ever.

But Mom, one of the greatest things you ever did was to call Pastor Denevi and ask him to go to Burwell to see and pray with Dodd Drake, Susan’s father, during his end time. Pastor Denevi held Dodd’s hand and encouraged him to accept Jesus as his Savior if he had not already done so. He prayed forcefully for Satan to be removed so that Jesus could be in Dodd’s heart then Dodd would have a home in Heaven. Susan was so thankful. It was one of the most moving experiences of my life. Mom this was because of you. Now that you are there in Heaven, I wish that I could have seen the smile on your face, Mom, when Jesus and all the others greeted you.

Thanks mom, I miss you. I love you, see you soon.
- RICK HAWLEY

I don’t think I know anyone who enjoyed being a farmer’s wife more than my mother in law, Jean. Milking cows wasn’t a chore to her. Being out there writing down estimated calving dates and bull weights wasn’t a chore. Helping a cow calve or feeding a bottle calf wasn’t work. She delighted in all things that concerned nature and babies and living on a farm. From her garden, to the flowers in front of the house, to the crops in the field, she was hands on and enjoyed every season.

She loved God, her family, and the farm. So many family dinners, planned and unplanned, took place there. Everybody wanted to come to a meal she cooked, and there were always fresh baked cakes, cookies or pies for someone who happened to stop in. And if she didn’t have it, give her fifteen minutes and there would be fudge, or cookies hot out of the oven. Gene could always get the neighbors to help with silage cutting or harvest because they knew how good the food was going to be.

She was my mother in law, but she was a friend, mentor, and an example. It’s been a while since we pulled up to the garage and she was there to greet us and help carry stuff in, but that’s how I will remember her, waving vigorously as she came down off the porch to say hello. I expect nothing less when I see her next in Heaven.

Till then, SUSAN HAWLEY
This past September 2019, my wonderful Grandma Jean went to Heaven. Sometimes people say they “lost” their loved one, but I know exactly where Grandma is. At the time, it seemed like just one more punch in the stomach in an already difficult year. But, when I stop and think of all the words that could be used in 2019, one I come back to is “blessed”. You see, as my brothers (Adam and Preston) and I grew up, we were blessed to have all of our grandparents and 4 great-grandparents. We had them through most of our childhood, and not many kids could say that. My parent’s dairy farm was just a mile from Grandpa Gene and Grandma Jean. (Easy to remember? Or confusing?) We spent a lot of time with them when we were little, and as we grew up we worked with them a lot, too.

I started working on their farm after school and on weekends when I was 15, eventually farming with them full time. Every morning the first thing I did was go in the barn where Grandma was milking cows to say “good morning”, and get the ever-present cookies and milk. Each night I would tell her “good-bye” and “see you tomorrow” before I went home. Now I wish I had said “I love you” a little more often, too. We should remember that saying it is free, not hard, and means an awful lot. I had the BEST Grandma. She was the type that fed you, watched out for you, laughed with you, and prayed for you. She used to watch the auger unload corn during harvest, and if some corn would get spilled, she would laugh and say “Let’s get that cleaned up before Grandpa sees it”. She knew in the long run, it really wasn’t that big of a deal.

Often when I would check cows late at night during calving, the kitchen light would be on. Usually that meant that Grandma was up reading her Bible. I would pop my head in the door to say “hi”, and we would usually find something to laugh about, even when the nights were cold and long. I miss that a lot this year. Grandma developed Parkinson’s Disease and fought it bravely for 18 years. It slowly took away the little things she liked to do - keep the diary, help with bookwork, play cards, and eventually driving. For nearly 42 years, she gave me almost every haircut I had ever got. We sure had some good conversations and laughed a lot while she trimmed me up. It truly broke my heart when that miserable disease took that away from us. You would never know how proud I would feel when she would take my arm and introduce me to someone as “her protection”. There are far too many things I could say about her. Our family was blessed in 2019 with the birth of two, new little cousins, Bronson and Peyton. I wish they could have known the Grandma they will miss out on. I hope someday I can tell them. Our Grandma is in Heaven now, healthy, happy, laughing with old friends and loved ones, and in the light of her Savior, Jesus Christ.

BLESSSED. Her Grandson, BRYAN HAWLEY
